LARU Workshop of Urban Regeneration 2017/2018

Art and culture as catalyst for the territory and the communities

For places “on the outskirts” of our cities, like suburbs or abandoned areas...

... how can art and culture promote urban regeneration processes?

< Introduction >

The LARU project
LARU Workshop of Urban Regeneration Workshop 2017/2018 - Art and culture as catalyst for the territory and the community intends to deepen the analysis and reflection on how art and culture can stimulate the local population in the regeneration processes of the suburbs, as marginal areas of the city with an important presence of public housing and with problems of social and economic nature, or abandoned areas of strong interest to be converted for a strategic vision of territorial development.

LARU has focused his research on marginal neighborhoods or abandoned areas of six municipalities of the Friuli Venezia Giulia (Trieste, Muggia, Monfalcone, Udine, Pordenone e Tolmezzo), deepen how art and culture can be the catalyst of urban regeneration processes for communities living in places “on the outskirts”.

Goals of the Cultural Hackathon
The objective of the event is centred on hacking, that is, exploring good practices, new ideas and creating innovative systems for the promotion of cultural capital located in processes of “urban regeneration” of marginal places of the city.

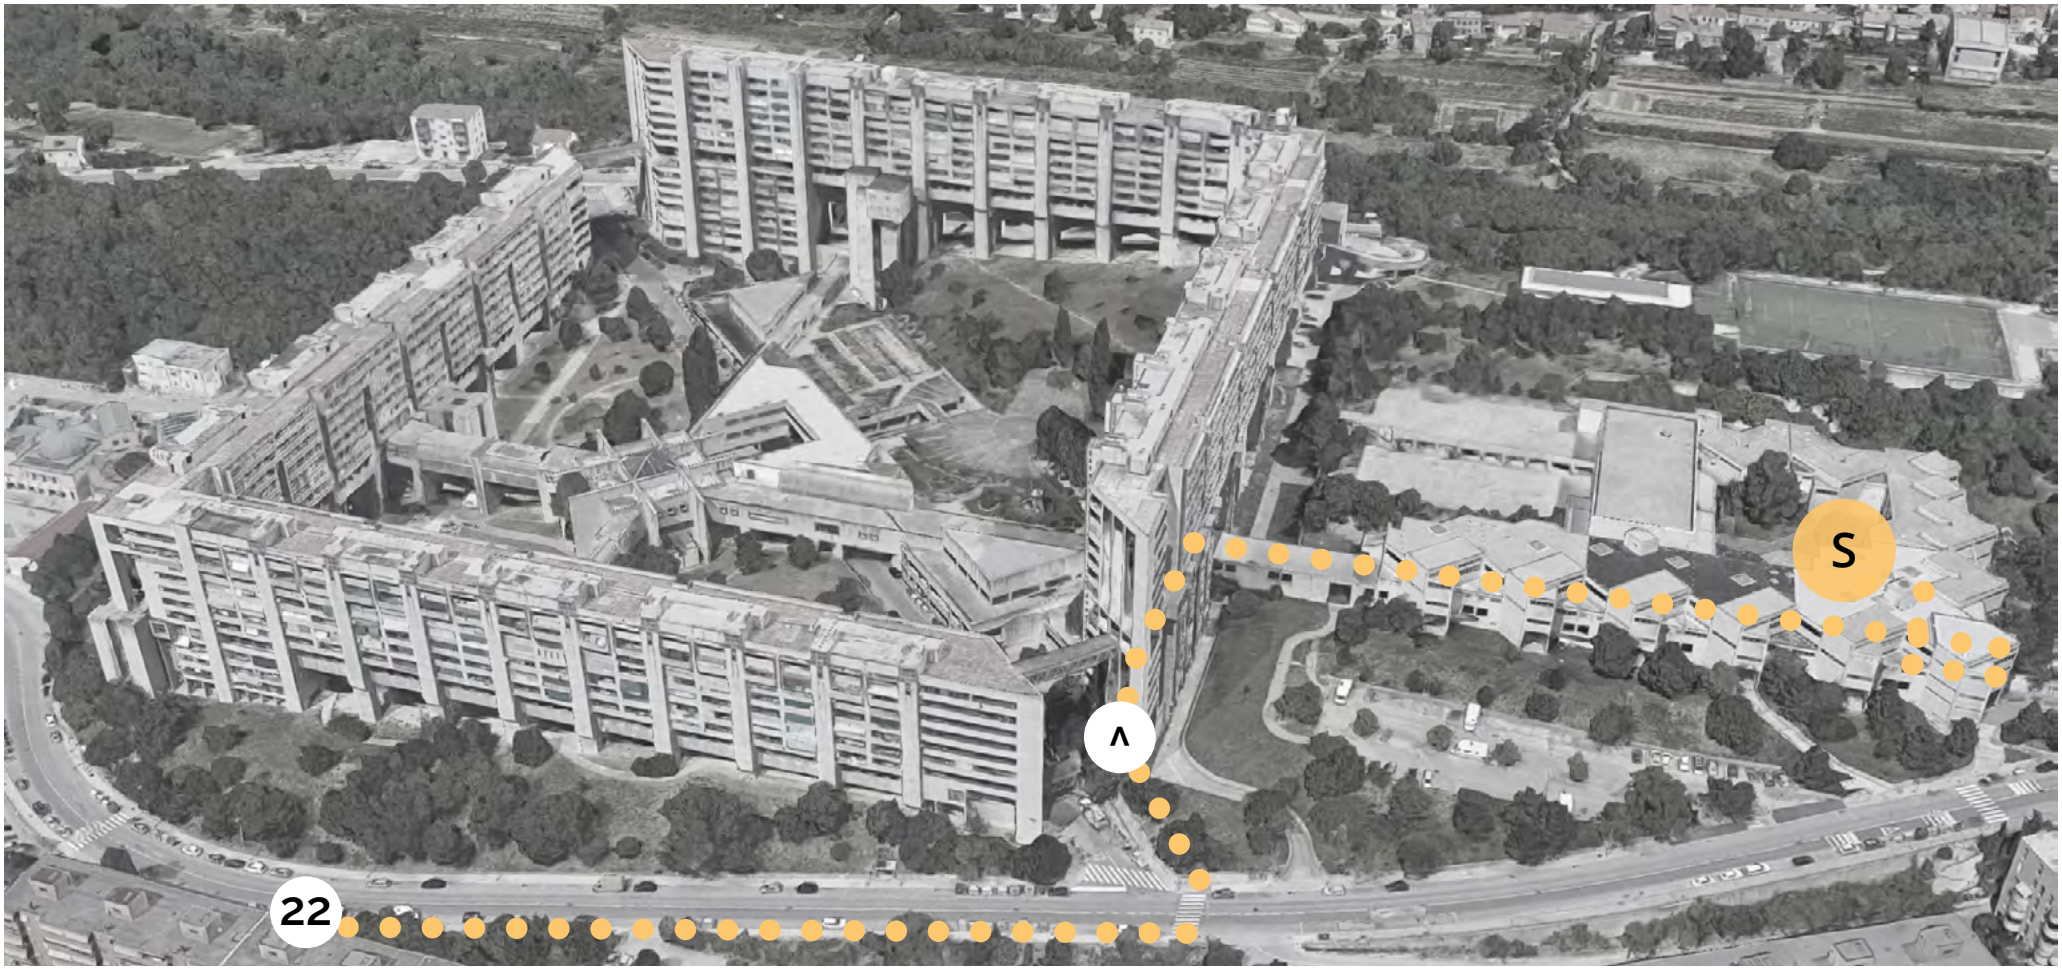
< Location >



To get to Rozzol Melara, take the bus number 22 (here is the timetable). At the stop (marked with < 22 > in the picture) go up to the first pedestrian crossing. Cross and go up the stairs leading to the entrance < ^ > of the highest volume. When you open the door, you will be in the corridor of the Ala Rossa (Red Wing). Continue to the point where the wing intersects with an orthogonal system of stairs. Go up the stairs and follow the half-covered path painted with murals: it is the “Hall of Fame” of Rozzol Melara. The first entries of the school, on the left, are only for pupils and professors. Go till the end of the path and enter the last door. Go up the stairs to the second floor to enter the School Auditorium < S > .

18:30 - 20:45 > DJ Set
Curated by Melart

< Quadrilatero Rozzol Melara >
Via Pasteur Louis 41
34139 Trieste TS

< Location >

From the entry < ^ > of the Ala Rossa (Red Wing), continue up to the same point of the morning, where the wing intersects with an orthogonal system of stairs. Enter the “corridor” on the left that leads to the center of Melara. Go until you see the “Message in the bottle” mural on your left (see also page 4 of this document).

For the MicroArea < M >: enter the fire door on the right, in front of the mural, and go up one level (level 3 for the elevator). The entrance to Auser Melara < Au > is ahead, facing the end of the mural. The location of the DJ Set < D > is located at the intersection with the other “corridor”, where there is the Associazione Melara, before the Post Office on the right.
